REMY BUMPPPO OPENS SEASON WITH STOPPARD'S NIGHT AND DAY, A ROMANTIC AND RELEVANT LOOK AT THE FREE PRESS

Previews Begin Sept. 22 with Opening/Press Night Sept. 27 at 7:00 p.m.

CHICAGO--Remy Bumppo Theatre Company opens its 14th year by revisiting its inaugural production, Tom Stoppard's satire of British news media Night and Day, Sept. 22 – Oct. 31, 2010 at the Greenhouse Theater Center, located at 2257 N. Lincoln Ave. Co-mingling romance and politics, Stoppard's 1978 play raises timely questions about the evolving role of journalism in the world. His arguments about journalistic integrity and who controls the story, gain new resonance in this age of shrinking media giants, growing niche outlets, and news breaking bloggers. Single tickets are on sale now at www.remybumppo.org or by calling the box office at 773-404-7336 (773-40-GREEN).

“He wants to know which side the Globe thinks it's on. So I tell him, “It's not on any side, stupid, it's an objective fact-gathering organization.” And he says, “Yes, but is it objective-for or objective-against?” - Night and Day

Set in a fictional African country that feels like a 1950s Hollywood romantic adventure, competing British war correspondents descend on the household of an expatriate and his wife, attempting to crack open a story on the country's erupting civil war. Stoppard, with his usual comic seriousness, both attacks the triviality of the free press for exposing the personal lives of public figures to sell papers, and elevates its importance in uncovering political truth. The cast features Artistic Associates Greg Matthew Anderson, David Darlow, Shawn Douglass and Linda Gillum and guest artists John Francis Babbo, Jeff Cummings, Ernest Perry, Jr., and Michael Pogue. Night and Day is directed by Remy Bumppo Artistic Director James Bohnen with scenic design by Tim Morrison, lighting by J.R. Lederle, costumes by Samantha C. Jones, and sound design by Jason Knox. Stage Management is provided by Baleigh Isaacs.

Remy Bumppo's production of Night and Day is supported in part by Chicago Public Media. Remy Bumppo's 2010/11 Season is made possible in part by Prince Charitable Trusts, The Jane Ellen Murray Foundation, The Illinois Arts Council and by a City Arts Program 3 grant from the City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs.
